COUNTY ASSESSOR ELECTED TO INTERNATIONAL BOARD
Cleveland County Assessor Doug Warr Named IAAO Region 1 Representative

[NORMAN, Okla.] —Cleveland County Assessor, Doug Warr was recently elected as the Region 1 representative on the Board of Directors for the International Association of Assessing Officers (IAAO).

IAAO is an organization that has a membership of more than 8,500 members worldwide for professionals in property valuation, property tax policy, and related fields. It establishes industry technical standards for mass appraisal, provides professional development, education and designations to assessors, appraisers, and other industry stakeholders.

Warr, who will begin his term on the board Jan. 1, has more than 35 years of membership with IAAO and a history of serving on and leading various committees within the organization, as well as providing oversight for numerous industry task forces.

As county assessor, Warr has elevated professionalism in his office and expanded community outreach and education. These efforts, he said, were aimed at enhancing taxpayer understanding of valuation and assessment and working to make a difference in the equity of the overall assessment process.

“I am deeply committed to professionalism, and I look forward to contributing to IAAO in this new role,” Warr said. “I believe in taking a proactive approach to the legislative process to shape laws that will foster fairness and equality in assessments and tax policies.”

Warr has served as Cleveland County Assessor since 2017. Prior to his county service, Warr was an instructor at Oklahoma State University, where he provided 150,000 hours of training to assessors and their deputies. He has more than three decades of experience in assessing and has worked in multiple sized jurisdictions across the state of Oklahoma.
